

O4 and domain-signal values are locked from the original computation and should be re-verified against the source pipeline before submission.